

CAPRICORN

The sign of the high roller, Capricorn is regarded as the zodiacs top, but also quiet, life and business achievers. But, there are two very different types of Capricorns.

The first is represented by the mountain goat, always climbing higher and higher; never content until reaching the top. The second is the garden goat, with little adventurous spirit or ambition-happy to remain within a small domain, refusing to budge unless it is pushed. Either type of Capricorn, however, is patient and persevering. They reach their goals because they know the longest journey commences with a single step and that the first step is always the most difficult.

The one thing a Capricorn must always try to do is balance work with play; otherwise they can become too one-sided and work can replace true personal emotional fulfilment. Continually climbing the eternal mountain of success, Capricornians rise to the occasion when faced with a new task or deadline. Even if something comes to a grinding halt, their ambition to reach the ultimate keeps them moving forever onwards and upwards (prompted by the strict influence of ruling planet Saturn). Although conservative and cautious, Goats are willing to try unusual approaches on their road to success in business or in love. Romantically, they desire a permanent relationship with someone who'll give them the affection they crave (and often neglect to give themselves!)

CAPRICORN AND TAURUS. You are mesmerized, aren't you? No wonder, because Taurus' Sun is in the section corresponding to real, unconditioned love. Taurus is prudent, reliable, practical - all the qualities that you are looking for in a partner.

You, dear Capricorn, have a very realistic vision on marriage, that's why you are very aware of the importance of the mutual trust.

Family and home are very important to both of you. Taurus seldom goes off the right way; (s)he sees faithfulness as a way of respecting the other, but him/herself, too. That is not to say that you are in for a dull life. Taurus knows how to keep the marital harmony.

Sexually, you are on the same wavelength: cerebral and patient, a quality that is often highly appreciated in specialized treatises. Taurus is full of charm (and not only) until old aged because the planet governing him/her is Venus, the star of beauty and sensuality.

Capricorn likes jewels very much, and Taurus - of both sexes - is glad to accept them. Both Taurus and Capricorn are strongly attracted to possessions, especially the beautiful ones. Capricorn is attracted to old things and, if you both like antiquities, you can admire them together and even buy them.

On the other hand, Taurus loves flowers and grass, that's why I advise you to spend time together in the open air because you will have many nice surprises. Anyway, you, dear Capricorn, will be overwhelmed at the sight of the flowers brought by your Taurus lover.

You also enjoy dining out, and Taurus always has a list with the finest restaurants at hand.

You can have a harmonious life with a Taurus. Far from insecurity and crises, you will be able to focus on your grand projects. You will climb the social ladder and remain at the top of it.

What could sound better to you? Enjoy it! It's the opportunity of your life!

CAPRICORN AND VIRGO. If there ever was a heavenly couple, it was the Capricorn-Virgo one!

Virgo is the partner that won't ask you why you have to work so much, because any Virgo is devoted to career. You are two Earth people, so you react very quickly to what is practical.

You will even have to make a pact so you don't forget the pleasures of intimacy. Doesn't a hot night ring a bell? Leave the office for a minute!

Virgo's prototype is the cosmic librarian, with her hair done up, in a rope probably, and a pair of glasses well set on her nose. Don't set yourself a trap: the native Virgo can be the sexiest person on Earth!

Your Virgo has excellent communication abilities and (s)he also knows the body language. Why should you be interested in that? Because you can enjoy extremely sensual moments!

The force of a Capricorn-Virgo relationship lies in the capacity of projecting the future and carrying through your projects. Because you are Earth signs, you have the same goals, the same motivation, satisfactions and dissatisfactions.

Safety, which is so important to any Capricorn, is granted if you have a Virgin next to you!

CAPRICORN AND SCORPIO: We are dealing with a sensational couple! You, dear Capricorn, lay the solid foundation and Scorpio will fill everything with passion and stability. Scorpio's extreme emotions, his/her passions - among which the passion (s) he has for you - fascinates you. Scorpio's water and Capricorn's earth will result in excellent clay!

Scorpio is endowed with great shrewdness and it will bring you wealth, if combined with your financial ability. There is a problem though: your Scorpio likes spending the money that you save by working hard. If you want to stop him/her, you can only marry him/her.

Scorpio is very hardworking and can make great efforts when (s)he puts his/her mind on something. In a Capricorn-Scorpio relationship, you will be more flexible than the usual: you will soon realize that it is impossible to talk to a Scorpio about something else than what (s)he is concerned about.

You, dear Capricorn, are guided by facts and clear analysis in anything you do, but Scorpio is different: his/her intuition is the main psychic function by which (s)he relates to people. You will find it rather hard to trust his/her words that seem groundless to you. But in time you will see Scorpio's flair, especially when it comes to money.

You are very discreet and you won't be afraid that your partner will tell everyone what you did in bed the night before. That doesn't even cross Scorpio's mind. You will have to get used to Scorpio's periods of silence and interiorization. You will know when (s)he is pre-occupied with something: (s)he will look at you as if you were a screen on which his/her plans are shown.

When something concerns your Scorpio, you won't manage to make him/her open up, even if the problem has nothing to do with you. (S)He can worry without realizing immediately what his/her problem is, so you don't need to get paranoid.

Your Scorpio is not hiding anything from you, on the contrary, (s)he him/herself does not know what the problem is. Scorpio needs more time to clear his/her thoughts. What can you do? You can get close to him/her gently, to gain his/her trust. If (s)he opens up, you can be sure (s)he does not lie. But if all you get is a blank look on a very quiet sound background, you'd better not push it!

One more thing you shouldn't forget: Scorpio is the sign of obsession and you are the goblet in which all his/her passion flows.

In front of a Capricorn-Scorpio couple, I can only bow with admiration. You can get over anything together!

CAPRICORN AND PISCES: This combination between Earth and Water can be fundamental to a really extraordinary relationship! By knowing your Pisces intimately, you will come to understand his/her deepest desires.

You are not a person that lacks ideas, dear Capricorn, but yours are always reality-oriented. On the other side, Pisces seems to be made of dreams and emotions only, apparently at least. You are right, in a way, but where do you go wrong? In characterizing Pisces' intuition as "irrational".

You will be surprised to see that (s)he hardly ever makes a mistake! Pisces will tell you about premonitions, prophetic dreams and ideas that have no real base. Although it seems very strange, you will find out that (s)he is almost always right.

What you cannot understand is Pisces' lack of materialism. Not only does (s)he see things differently from you, but from all the other people, too. Your ambition is to buy a new car or an expensive jewelry, but when you tell Pisces about things like these, (s)he just looks at you and says with no enthusiasm: "Ok, if you want to."

But if you tell your Pisces about how you intend to become very rich one day and build a library for the poor or extend an old hospital, you will have all his/her attention. Pisces wants to comfort the others, by sympathizing with them.

Pisces also needs to create, so his/her favourite gifts can be tools such as a camera, a computer (to write poems and novels) or watercolours and paintbrushes.

Pisces is much more romantic than Capricorn, therefore you will enjoy all his/her tenderness.

Stand by your Pisces and make sure you help him/her spirit up, because (s)he often loses self-confidence and becomes depressive. The reason for which this happens is that Pisces doesn't take good care of him/herself. Being preoccupied with the others, (s)he forgets about his/her real talents.

When you make love, you have to be sure that you are on the same level of sensitiveness with him/her, because for the Pisces sex is a non-verbal expression of supreme love.

If you try to fake that you want him/her, Pisces will know in a second and (s)he will push you away, but if you are honest, you will have a relationship like you've never had before! Indeed, the Fish lives in an ethereal and spiritual world, and if (s)he succeeds in taking you into his/her world, you will never want to come back to Earth again!

CAPRICORN AND CANCER Your Cancer lover was born six months away in the zodiac, so you will find him/her either complementary or at the other end of your values. In brief, a Capricorn-Cancer union will bring you either perfection, or complete confusion. The final result depends on you. Let's take a look at the pros and cons.

Capricorn governs the section of the horoscope that is responsible for honours and fame, therefore you are very ambitious and you hope to come to a leading position. You do very well in large corporations, as well as in politics. You know what hierarchical relations are about and you even like them. You are rigorous, that's why the institutions with well defined responsibilities seem very productive to you. You were born under an Earth sign so you are very pragmatic.

Enters Cancer! Let's welcome him/her properly, ladies and gentlemen! First of all, Cancer is a Water sign, very different from you. Cancer governs home and family. Although (s)he works hard, Cancer is not willing to make the same individual effort as you are, dear Capricorn. Still, we are in front of a funny couple, because Cancer will feed you and your children, offering you the lifestyle you aspire to, and you have no idea what you should do in exchange!

The first problems will appear because Cancer cannot understand why you spend so much time away from home. Don't try to explain to him/her how interesting your work is, because Cancer cannot understand such things, on the contrary, (s)he will get upset and become very difficult. On the other hand, you think Cancer has an obsession about home and spends too much time in.

If you are "lucky" and meet a divorced Cancer with children, you will strongly feel this thing because (s)he will talk about them ceaselessly and (s)he will even make plans without including you.

Capricorn respects kinship because (s)he is a traditional, too. You can visit your relatives together. You have a lot of fun during these gatherings, because you both enjoy inquiring the old about their youth sins.

Don't worry, I'm not underestimating you at all! You never forget that you can benefit from these relations, socially speaking, that's why you choose very carefully the relatives that you must visit.

In the end, I dare to bet on this relation: each of you will offer the other one exactly what (s)he needs!

TWO CAPRICORNS: Could two goats like yourselves experience true love? You have all the chances in the world! The only problem is that you are both too busy, for which reason you can make love only on your way to work or during your short lunch break.

No matter how much you love each other, how much burning passion you have for each other, somewhere, deep in your heart, career comes first and so does the need of social recognition. Precisely because you know what this desire means, you will understand your Capricorn lover and stand by him/her, regardless of the sacrifices!

The problem with this relation is that you are both more interested in the social and professional success than in the marital one. You are much too serious and the relation is in danger of becoming rather caustic.

You will need to save some energy for entertainment and play, too! Clear the bedroom of any object that reminds you of the office and throw away the TV set! Forget about news reports when you make love!

If you get married and have children, it is absolutely necessary to get used to getting together at least once a week. Of course, the more responsibilities, the more aspirations, and the desire to succeed gets bigger and bigger.

Children will complicate your life a little, because neither of you is willing to make time to play with them. Fortunately, you don't intend to disappoint each other and with goodwill you will manage to cope with these new responsibilities.

In brief, this relationship suits you. If you work a little on the entertainment section, too, you are in for a wonderful and lasting union!

CAPRICORN AND GEMINI It cannot be a classical couple, because Gemini is much more desirous of excitement than you are, dear Capricorn. Most certainly, you walked into the trap of his/her sharp and resourceful mind. I'm sure that's what attracted you from the beginning.

Gemini can make you lose your head in a minute, because you take things seriously too quickly, things that (s)he is just playing with. Gemini is not a possessive person. (S)He is rather busy, so you shouldn't worry if you run late at the office.

Gemini will ask all kinds of questions about yourself, which will inevitably scare you and make you wonder: "If I tell him/her everything, won't (s)he get tired of me soon?" You could be right...

The changing and thriving of his/her own personality is a vital need for the Twin. The good part of things is that Gemini can be an inexhaustible source of information due to the fact that (s)he is always informed about everything that happens.

To win him/her over, you'd better admire his/her agility and ability to retain such an amount of information and (s)he will immediately become very affectionate with you. Talking to a Gemini is very stimulating and you will never feel bored.

Gemini is energy itself. If (s)he is intellectually stimulated, (s)he can work very hard and this is something you appreciate in a partner.

In bed, Gemini is unpredictable, inventive and willing to try new things - an exceptional partner from many points of view. Gemini will never expect from you more than (s)he him/herself can offer, but since (s)he proves such a talent, you could think of inventing something spicy yourself...

Gemini needs variation so, if you don't want to be replaced, let your imagination go wild! For example, seduce him/her in each room of your house and then... try other houses, too!

Don't forget about Gemini's sensitiveness about words, so send him/her exciting notes! Surprise is the key to his/her heart and... the button to turn on the sexual desire!

To put it shortly, a Capricorn-Gemini relation can survive but it will take a Herculean effort. Decide if it's worth it!

CAPRICORN AND LEO From the astrological point of view, a Capricorn-Leo relationship is doomed to failure, because you, dear Capricorn, are an Earth sign and Leo is a Fire sign. Usually, the Earth does not tolerate the Fire elements, but if you take a close look at how much you have in common, you will be very surprised. In my opinion, this relationship has many chances to work.

You are both crazy about an active social life, but the Lion is more exuberant and open-hearted while you are more reserved. Social relations are very important to both of you, but for different reasons: one of you wants to enjoy him/herself, the other wants to “extend” his/her influence. You probably recognized yourself in the latter.

You both have taste in clothes and you are always present at the cultural occasions of this kind. Leo will reveal what's best in you and you will bring him/her back to Earth when (s) he forgets that you don't have a kingdom to afford the lifestyle (s)he wants!

Leo can lack any practical sense and (s)he can also be very stubborn - two characteristics that will make you go crazy! In his/her turn, (s)he may find you a little too stiff, too serious when it comes to work. However, let's not forget that love works miracles!

In bed, Leo wants to be caressed and adored. All this makes you feel a little out of control. For Leo, the sexual act is a real feast: champagne, flowers, chocolate, garments, adornments, sexy lingerie... I'm not trying to say that you don't have a very healthy appetite, but Leo surpasses you!

If you have children, Leo is a very good parent - very interested in children's welfare, (s)he gets so involved in everything that has to do with them that (s)he almost sinks into his/her second childhood. I don't doubt you either - Capricorn has a great respect for family and children - but you will be more useful to them when they grow up. When they are about to get to the university, you are the man they need; I don't take into consideration the money that you have been saving for their studies, but you can advise them about the career they should choose.

Although you might come to taking lessons to climb this mountain of stubbornness, Capricorn and Leo have many things in common. It's true that it requires some effort, but you could have great satisfactions from living with a Leo.

CAPRICORN AND SAGITTARIUS This is a difficult couple, indeed. Let's say you are complementary, but only to give you some hope.

One of the main problems is that of the planets governing you: Capricorn is governed by Saturn and Sagittarius is governed by Jupiter. Sagittarius is optimistic and friendly, while you, dear Capricorn, are strict and realistic. Consequently, (s)he will reproach you with your pessimism.

Don't hope that your beloved Sagittarius will ever understand the expression "to save up for a rainy day". As far as you are concerned, his/her joyfulness and spirit of adventure can make you classify him/her as "irresponsible".

Physically, Sagittarius likes practicing, that's why (s)he may be very skilful and (s)he may laugh in your face, making jokes about how... clumsy you are! This will make you mad and determine you to do only what you want to - or you won't feel like doing anything anymore unless you are advised by your partner.

Anyway, Sagittarius's direct approach is quite the opposite of your diplomacy. You might often feel angry and humiliated.

The love life can be very good at the beginning. Sagittarius's beautiful and athletic body makes you burn. However, after a while, you will ask yourself: what else do I like except for his/her beautiful shapes? Hard to answer...

Your Sagittarius is a philosopher, a theoretician, while you, dear Capricorn, are a pragmatic, a realistic person, that's why you want to take advantage of the material benefits.

Sagittarius's humour, his/her funny philosophy on life can make you laugh. Moreover, you will be fascinated by the way (s)he watches and comments the TV commercials, which feeds his/her need of mental exercise.

Sagittarius' thinking can be symbolical, and you find this way of presenting ideas very interesting and... that's it. If you are interested in esotericism, you could have something in common.

A Capricorn-Sagittarius couple has 50% chances. Sometimes it can be very difficult, but not impossible. It is entirely up to you whether you succeed or not!

Capricorn AND AQUARIUS. Do opposites attract each other? Yes, they do, quite often. Can they hold on together? Sometimes - but in the Capricorn-Aquarius case, the differences are too big. The result of this combination depends on the difference between your expectations and the outcome.

Do Aquarius's unconventional ideas and his/her need of strong sensations send shivers up your spine? You may think these are exciting and provoking qualities, but only in the beginning. You, dear Capricorn, are a traditional to the backbone, while Aquarius does not care about social status, as you do. (S)He doesn't mind shocking, revolutionizing - on the contrary!

Even if your Aquarius is not a typical one, (s)he still has a colder temperament than yours. His/Her vision of the world is very objective. (S)He doesn't let feelings get in the way of reason. Sometimes, his/her interests can be so very modern and "flexible", that you will be longing for a more stable and... loving person. Aquarius will never fit this description. And we've just begun talking about major differences!

Deep down in your heart, you have a strong class-awareness: you want the appropriate neighbours, the proper clothes, the adequate school for your children and things like these. Aquarius is a different kind of person: (s)he has democratic ideas and (s)he lives his/her life according to his/her own beliefs, regardless of what people believe to be good or bad.

Both Capricorn and Aquarius are meant to rule, but in different directions.

You gain fame in a corporate environment due to great efforts that require patience and strong nerves. You understand the corporate culture very well and this will help you climb the hierarchical ladder very quickly. In other words, you get to the top without balancing up and down.

Aquarius prefers social groups, institutionalized or not. If (s)he is frustrated about his/her job, (s)he doesn't mind volunteering for a non-profit organization. Aquarius is capable of dedicating him/herself to the entire world for the right cause so stop waiting for him/her to come home at the end of the day! You can watch him/her talking to a crowd through a loudspeaker or you can have a coffee with him/her at the... Internet Café.

Another difference between Capricorn and Aquarius is the way you understand to spend a pleasant evening. You would choose a four-star restaurant while Aquarius would choose to eat vegetarian food in a fast food; you would like to talk about theatre and literature while (s)he would like to talk about ways of helping children cross the street or about a good page on the Internet; you love history and antiquities, while Aquarius rejects and forgets everything that happened yesterday - (s)he is already living in the future, for the future.

CAPRICORN AND ARIES What is there ahead of you? A bumpy road. Each of you will appreciate it differently because you have differently oriented senses of space direction. Considering the belief that love overcomes any obstacle, let's take a look at this combination.

Capricorn's traditional spirit suits perfectly with working in an organization. You think that authority relations are fair and you feel very well in an institutionalized environment. Try talking to Aries about bosses, though. I wouldn't advise you to, because (s)he is his/her own boss.

Moreover, the desire for freedom and the spirit of adventure that characterize Aries can annoy you terribly. You aspire to stability but (s)he does not have such dreams. If you live together, agitation will come into your house, too.

Aries is an egocentric that you can hardly tolerate. (S)He always has a project on the table and (s)he tries to innovate everything that, in his/her opinion, needs modification. You need social recognition very much and you will be proud of your lover only if (s)he is appreciated for his/her innovating spirit.

This relation is more suitable as a working partnership, because you both overdo it at work. You both want to win and this could keep you together, even though this is not a relevant aspect for a couple from the astrological point of view.

You and your Aries would get along much better as business partners or work colleagues, because you are very devoted to your preoccupations and stimulated by recognition of your personal value. You are both meant to be successful and this could be a starting point - although, I admit, it's not the most appropriate for a love story.

You are both able to enjoy sex, but for Aries quality equals speed. You are more sensual and you like caressing your partner more. However, you could meet him/her half way especially if you really try!

Your Aries is an enthusiast dreamer, full of ideas and plans. It is not absolutely necessary that his/her projects are realistic for him/her to obstinately follow them. You could settle for the part of the anchor in this relation, offering advice and practical solutions.

If you support each other, you can accomplish many things. Still, it is difficult enough because eventually everything depends on you.

CAPRICORN AND LIBRA Because your Suns are in a fight position, we cannot talk about a classical astrological combination, but you could make it work since there are some things you have in common.

You both have very busy schedules. Although you are very energetic, socially, Libra will be even more involved than you will! Can you believe that? (S)He knows almost all people in the world and thus you will have the chance to meet wonderful people through him/her. Since you are a Capricorn and you want to have many connections, you will be very pleased with this opportunity. Your beloved Libra is the quintessence of diplomacy and charm, qualities that you will cherish especially if (s)he joins you for a business meeting.

Both Capricorn and Libra are cardinal signs, that's why you are both keen on challenge. Venus, the planet that governs Libra, shows us that these natives possess a power that manifests with subtlety. Due to the way (s)he takes advantage of his/her natural charm, Libra is thought of as the power behind the throne.

But when do problems begin? When Libra complains about your spending too much time at the office. How are you supposed to answer this question? Very simple: "All I'm doing is contributing to and even improving your lifestyle!" Libra relates things so fast and correctly, that you could be in for surprises at this kind of answer, too. (S)He is a real master in using charisma in any situation! You could start longing for a partner that does not need company so much, because you will inevitably ask yourself: "Why does (s)he need me so much?" Libra is a sign of partnership, of marriage. If (s)he cannot interact with his/her partner for the most insignificant issues, (s)he doesn't feel whole. (S)He is entitled to marriage and if you have other plans, (s)he will know immediately!

Another problem could be that Libra is not endowed with a very keen practical sense. You are ambitious, highly focused and strong-willed. Your beloved Libra can be more superficial and it's possible that (s)he follows more directions at the same time. (S)He might even not share the need for stability that you strongly feel. You could end up thinking that (s)he simply refuses to use his/her abilities. In time, especially considering that life faces us with more and more responsibilities, you will get angry, because such a partner is an extra load for you.

To a Capricorn's mind, sexual life is very simple: you feel like it, you want it to happen, what's there more to discuss about? Libra is more refined, more intellectual. However, you are able to bring your partner on the same wavelength, so sex will not be a real problem. It is known that a Libra keeps his/her good looks even when (s)he gets old. That's another advantage (s)he has: undying charm!

The chances of such a relationship are 50%. I can't be more optimistic because of the disharmonious aspect between the two stars that govern your signs. A key to success is patience and perseverance to get to know each other very well. In time, if you come to the conclusion that your Libra lover is the chosen one, write it all down! Maybe you get lucky and some planets are well placed in your personal charts so that you can overcome the primary dissonance easily!
