

AQUARIUS

Special note for Aquarians: With the new Millennium heralding the Dawn of the Age of Aquarius, at this time, ready or not, your sign is regarded as the zodiac's leader. You are the trendsetter for the future and because of this high responsibility, many under born your sign will be undergoing at this time, as we approach the Millennium, the pressure of personal change (particularly in your values and what makes you content and happy). Yours has always been a philanthropic sign. Now more than ever these qualities will be highlighted.

Those born under the sign of Aquarius not only march to a different drummer, they make up new music as they go along. They are 'mind oriented' individuals, whose thoughts never stop tick-tocking over. Because of their high focus on intellectual exploration, many inventors, eccentrics and highly original trailblazers are born under this sign. Their intense ability to live on many mental levels, holds both pain and pleasure for Aquarians. For example, in the American Hall of Fame there are more Aquarians than any other sign, yet statistics reveal that in mental institutions there are more Aquarians than any other sign too. Many extremes can surround this sign and these extremes can take them to both heaven and hell.

But in everyday terms, most Aquarians are extremely humanitarian and often involved in social programs that assist others. They can also be objective in judgement, for they never let their emotions get in the way. Outgoing and amiable, Aquarians attract friends wherever they go and those whom Aquarians befriend have their unswerving loyalty.

Aquarius and Aries? What a beauty and what a tornado!

An Air sign with a Fire sign! It couldn't have been better because Air keeps the Fire burning and Fire keeps the Air warm! Aquarius is permanently in the Air because (s)he dreams of saving the world, and Aries always burns for the sake of initiatives and action.

The unpredictable is what ties them together. Aquarius (ruled by Uranus) is original and imaginative - hence the splendor of the relationship. But Aries (ruled by Mars) is always an enthusiastic who only thinks after (s)he takes action (and not too often though) - hence the "explosive" nature of the couple.

Aquarius and Aries are good for each other because they are active, full of great intentions, thoughts and deeds, sometimes even heroic, and in some cases they are even adventurous.

Aquarius will never be bothered by Aries' need to be in charge (not even when the man is Aquarius and the woman is Aries), and Aries will always like Aquarius' need of freedom and independence (especially if the woman is Aquarius) which allows him/her to be in the centre of attention.

If the first dates go well, it means their relationship is to become a steady one.

Mars (the ruler of Aries) and Uranus (the ruler of Aquarius) make an excellent pair if they can temper themselves, especially if both of them agree on avoiding conventions and constraints of any kind, enjoying their relationship, regardless of the content it will have after the thrill of the beginning.

Aquarius and Gemini - two happy people living in their own world.

Air and Air! What can we expect of them? Maybe just to pay more attention to the sentimental life, not to miss the feelings.

The Aquarius-Gemini couple is a special, wonderful, “airy” combination, full of ideas that meet successfully Gemini’s pleasure to pass on the information and Aquarius’ gift to take this information to the highest peaks of mentality.

Gemini says “I’ve got an idea” and Aquarius exclaims “I’ve come up with an idea” - and thus their love takes the shape of mental exercise manifested in conversations, trips, communication, friendly or professional meetings, fast acquisitions of books, newspapers, DVDs or fast solving of telephonic obligations.

It would help if a “sentimental counselor” suggested Gemini and Aquarius to relax and to be careful about their body, meaning that they should have healthy eating habits, enjoy massages, love games and meaningful sexuality, to recharge this way the spontaneity reservoirs they need physically.

Aquarius and Libra. Yes, this could be a fulfilled relationship!

This is because there is so much Air that the relationship tends to involve everything and everybody in its emotional sphere.

The Aquarius-Libra couple will always be comfortable around the others - at parties, shows, interviews, taking part in charity deeds or in partnership negotiations of any kind.

This is a couple in which Libra brings refinement and Aquarius brings immensity, in which the heart of Venus (Libra) has the capacity to synchronize its beats with the cerebral rhythms of Uranus (Aquarius).

Isn't it natural? Isn't Venus (love) the last, yet perfect creation of Uranus (Space), achieved by a perfect sublimation?

This means that love is given by God and this is precisely why it is infinite; we become an ocean of happiness for ourselves and for the others because we experience it.

And no other couple than this splendid pair, Aquarius-Libra, has the noble quality of connecting us to such sublime energies that are able to spiritualize harsh sexuality, turning it into elevated forms of art and knowledge (both human and Cosmic), by keeping it in the heart area.

Aquarius and Sagittarius - or conquering the world!

Talking about this relationship is like reading an encyclopedia of all times: nothing is hidden, unknown or unexplored. Sagittarius' often prophetic visionariness will always find the necessary support and enthusiasm in Aquarius' dreams to improve the human condition, and Aquarius' wish to wander freely through the Realm of Gods will always have a passionate fan in Sagittarius' passion for exploration.

If they truly love each other, then nobody can affect this sincere, dynamic, often passionate couple, characterized by a real aspiration to break all limits.

Don't think for a moment that there is something that can scare them or make them give up. No way!

Sagittarius knows the highest purpose of life very well, the constellation for which his/her heart beats. As for Aquarius, there is no barrier to stop him/her.

Aquarius and Sagittarius will burn together till the end or will part willingly, while being friends for ever.

The common goals, the creative ideals and the freedom to experience anything make their relationship lasting, stable and even peaceful in a way.

This is why, for an Aquarius-Sagittarius couple, pure love makes the impossible become possible.

Aquarius and Leo: the ones who look into each other's eye for a lifetime!

“Excellent combination!” most of us would say, because, indeed, good Air can sustain a long Fire. Great commitment (Leo) becomes at any time the support of enthusiasm (Aquarius) that can mean everything.

However, there is some over royalty here: Leo is theatrical and takes, sometimes abusively, the entire scene of Aquarius' existence, while Aquarius, the king of the whole space by definition, stands no limitation, even if it is out of love.

In an Aquarius-Leo couple, each of them tries to impose on the other one what is characteristic of him/herself: Leo - his/her absolute royalism, Aquarius - his/her unlimited freedom.

Thus they risk drifting apart precisely because of what they have in common - passion, sincerity, love of everything, brightness, extravagancy, nobility and ardor.

An Aquarius next to another Aquarius! A relationship as sparkling as champagne and as necessary as a creed!

When you see them, don't be surprised if they're planning the rehabilitation of the human being at a planetary level and talking about what they could invent to gain more time.

Because Uranus' adventure is, in its essence, an adventure beyond Time, precisely for Space not to be threatened anymore by this "erosion" energy. Because if Uranus loses his Space, (s)he loses the reason of being.

And the heart, also - isn't it an infinite space? Love - isn't it a space without which nobody and no one can breathe? Then? Isn't Time the one that has to be "resolved" into this necessary "limitation"?

This is why two Aquarius get along so well, because they protect each other against any let-down, stopping or deterioration. They are the only ones who know how to gain time - by inventing, innovating, revolting or gathering all his/her friends by his/her side, in great social deeds or promising humanitarian projects, apparently impossible.

This delicious and dynamic relationship will go beyond the understanding of those watching them.

Most of the times, the intellectual stimulation will be more inciting than sex.

Most often, the two Aquarius think alike and most of the times they come to a mutual understanding, maybe even telepathically. In time, this will also generate an affective synchronization which, under special conditions of elevation and spiritual fulfillment, will last more than a lifetime, to the benefit of all Creation plans.

Aquarius and Cancer? Air and Water. Do you think something like that is possible?

We can assume that Aquarius is too mental and Cancer is too sensitive; we could believe that Aquarius is a born adventurer and Cancer is a true, old-fashioned family man/woman, thus drawing a line between unpredictable freedom and open, often blind conservatism. It's a relationship that, in a way, can be the expression of the famous generation gap.

It's not always like that. Incompatible signs such as Aquarius and Cancer look for each other when time has come to take the final step towards their spiritual evolution.

Cancer needs to learn to be free and not to depend on anyone, and Aquarius needs to learn to accept love, to let him/herself be overwhelmed, invaded by Cancer's feelings.

Aquarius can take a Cancer out of his/her shell for ever, the same way Cancer can teach Aquarius to know the world through the five senses.

Such a relationship is therefore possible because Cancer's prolific creativity can find its expression and manifestation in the Aquarius' mental imagination and originality.

A relationship in which Cancer will head towards the fundamental archetypes of humanity, and Aquarius will spontaneously give them the shape of new mental productions for the next generations.

An Aquarius-Cancer couple can often change the world.

Aquarius and Virgo, or the fascination of power!

Yes, a fascination that joins Virgo's unconditioned commitment and Aquarius' wild enthusiasm to save the world, which makes them reach different dimensions of life but complementarily, indeed: Aquarius is oriented towards the subtle worlds, looking through the memory of the Universe with his/her imagination, and Virgo towards the material and sensible aspects, revealing the microcosmos that comes into contact with this Universe at the terrestrial level.

Aquarius sacrifices his/her heart for the sake of absolute knowledge, Virgo sacrifices his/her personal life to aunts, uncles, old people and all those that have no support. Aquarius sees the woods and Virgo sees only the trees.

What other couple experiences such an inner burning, profoundly purifying for the divine spirit within us? With a Virgo native that purifies the spirit through the body and with an Aquarius that purifies the spirit through the mind, so that divine love manifests plenarily through the human being's heart!?

We can also talk about risks, of course - some inhibitions and/or serious erotic discontents, if at least one of them overlooks the stringent necessity of remembering - even from time to time - both the other one and him/herself.

Aquarius and Capricorn! Two very different Saturnine people - simply complementary.

Interesting combination! But, statistically, it's quite rare because these two "old" signs don't seem to need each other too often. Still, if they meet and manage to synchronize their value systems, they can build one of the most spectacular couples.

Capricorn will patiently temper Aquarius' lack of measure and Aquarius will always suggest new horizons to Capricorn. It is, in fact, the couple that can abolish the generation gap from history, if the Saturnine Capricorn knows what to keep of what is old and if Aquarius knows what to choose of the new values to add to the existing ones. The combination between tradition and innovation can truly be saving sometimes.

It's understandable why, from the winter signs on, love comprises the great problems of humanity. These signs didn't join the terrestrial existence for themselves, but for the others.

In the love each of them has for the other, there is also a sort of "human affective experiment" that is meant to take us to elevation and sanctity.

Aquarius is the person of progress and adventure while Capricorn is completely moral and responsible. Aquarius seems to waste the resources that Capricorn administers to him/her with different degrees of generosity.

Aquarius loves space and Capricorn adores time. Maybe that's why Aquarius lives boundlessly and Capricorn agelessly. Maybe that's why their relationship can be both spontaneous and short, and also elaborate and eternal.

If they literally leave something behind for the sake of the society, that means they really loved each other, bringing a wonderful undying present to the linearity of our lives.

Aquarius and Pisces, or unconditioned commitment and supreme sacrifice.

Yes, this is a couple of free sufferance or of the human kind's salvation - meaning that each of them has his/her own duality. The Pisces native can choose the direction in this couple if (s)he is allowed to, and Aquarius can decide whether this direction is the necessary one, if (s)he is taken seriously.

In normal or poor social conditions, the Aquarius-Pisces couple can have a peaceful marriage with the subsequent implications. But, at turning points for the humanity, this couple can prove often incredible qualities. And this is exactly because one dreams as much as (s)he can (Aquarius) and the other sacrifices him/herself willingly (Pisces), because they both know, deep inside their heart, that they are here to save the planet.

If you separate an Aquarius-Pisces couple from their spiritual motivation you'll see that you practically take their life away. Or, on the contrary, if you strongly support their frenzy and unconditioned commitment, you'll be surprised at how much you can learn from them, the ones that can suddenly become ways of manifestation for the divine energies of love.

Aquarius loves everything, because his/her nature is solar, free of any kind of prejudices and willing to offer. Pisces, in his/her turn, loves everything, because his/her nature is sensitive and compassionate, desirous of offering comfort, taking on him/herself the sufferance of the others.

Charitable by definition and altruistic, Aquarius and Pisces find themselves with joy in the happiness and welfare of the others, like some anonymous guides, completely fulfilled by a love that never ends, going beyond the usual limits and sometimes experiencing consciousness expansion or modified consciousness.

Aquarius and Taurus! What an overwhelming happiness!

Do you, by any chance, doubt it? Do you find it impossible or incredible? Do you think Taurus is too domestic and easy-going, too attached to things and desirous of a peaceful home and high living, and Aquarius too rebel and too “universal”, preoccupied with his/her astral worlds, for them to find a way to get along? If you think so, then let me tell you that you are misled by the shallow aspects of the relationship. And here's why:

In fact, both Taurus and Aquarius are fixed signs, characterized by the storing force - even if Taurus is interested in material possessions and Aquarius in intellectual ones.

Both Taurus and Aquarius are creators by definition - even if Taurus has a real sense of “sensible” aesthetic values while Aquarius an equally real sense of values, but of abstract ones. They both prove a high originality, each of them being a non-conformist in his/her own way, even if Taurus is often classified as conservative.

Therefore, Aquarius is an inventor, a creator in the world of vanguard ideas, and Taurus is a creator in the world of affective ideas.

For this reason, a Taurus' sensuality and sentimental warmth will always attract and charm an Aquarius, desirous from time to time of a nice home where (s)he can tell about his/her astral adventures. For this reason, Aquarius' free and unconfined spirit will always fascinate and keep a Taurus close because of his/her desire for someone to accept his/her overwhelming affection, full of vitality.

In other words, the Aquarius-Taurus couple is a provocative one, capable of changing obsolete views or of promoting new aesthetic directions. Besides that, erotically, they will always make sure they are happy.

Aquarius and Scorpio. What a relationship between the infinity of the Sky and the abyss of the Earth!

Total level difference! And a matching power between two extremes without which our life would be impossible.

Aquarius seems to deny his/her terrestrial origins, and Scorpio seems to forget his/her celestial ideal; one tends to go up and the other to go down.

It's practically a relationship between two sun signs that most often communicate on completely different frequencies. A combination usually thought of as impossible or very difficult, as Aquarius isn't very patient with Scorpio's emotional, introvert and jealous nature, while Scorpio will hardly tolerate Aquarius' careless independence.

The initial erotic attraction is stimulating, even fascinating, but Aquarius' unpredictable moods and Scorpio's possessiveness can cause break-ups rather often.

Still, the courageous (talking about the Aquarius) and the patient (meaning the Scorpio) can be happier than anyone could imagine, in spite of all bets and sad predictions. That is because Aquarius brings along a divine state of purity in love and Scorpio an irresistible force of affective revival.

This way, the relationship between the Sky and the Earth is one of permanent exchange of ideas, of mutual stimulation, in which Uranus' intelligence feeds Pluto's intuition and inspiration.

The risk regards Aquarius' fragility in front of any strong attacks from Scorpio.
