

GEMINI

In ancient Greek mythology, Gemini's ruler - Mercury, was the light-footed messenger of the gods who darted back and forth across the heavens delivering news - which might explain why those born under the sign of the 'Twins' are always on the move; thirsty for knowledge and new experiences. Terminally curious and sometimes even mischievous, Geminis are multi-faceted souls who enjoy knowing a little bit of everything but generally not too much about one particular subject. It's just that variety is the spice of their lives!

In Astrology, Geminis have also gained the reputation of being the incessant talkers of the zodiac. Those Twins that don't have the 'gift of the gab' are usually talented writers or have a special interest in foreign languages. In love, they look for a partner who can keep up with them mentally and physically! And, to quote Oscar Wilde, "there's one thing worse than people talking about you, that's people not talking about you." Whether Geminis like it or not, people are usually "talking about them". Together with Scorpio and Virgos, they are a sign that is often discussed, dissected and sometimes even put down by the other signs of the zodiac. Sometimes this is a subtle form of jealousy by others, because Geminis do lead very unique and unusual lives. The Gemini personality can appear mysterious or detached to others and therefore they are often misunderstood and unappreciated for the talents they offer to the world at large.

High astrological affinity:

Gemini-Aries, Gemini-Leo, Gemini-Libra, Gemini-Aquarius

Good compatibility:

Gemini-Gemini, Gemini-Sagittarius

Fairly compatible:

Gemini-Taurus, Gemini-Cancer, Gemini-Scorpio, Gemini-Capricorn

Low compatibility:

Gemini-Virgo, Gemini-Pisces

GEMINI AND ARIES. Your Aries is under the sign of Mars or, better said, (s)he is on the move all the time because if you say Mars, you actually say fast actions. And Aries will truly feel perfect next to a restless Gemini like you. Your intellectual and speculative side will amaze Aries, but, to be honest, whom wouldn't an Aries in action amaze? You will have problems, too, because neither of you is too tranquil, but your Air feeds Aries' Fire. That means (s)he will love you like crazy!

What attracted you to an Aries? Let's see: was it the overwhelming energy and enthusiasm that could change the world? The passion Aries invests in everything (s)he does? Or was it the easiness with which Aries comes up with ideas? Aries gets bored very easily. So do you. So you can conquer, rebuild, rearrange the world together, because Gemini is curious by nature and Aries is a born "innovator".

Aries will show you a whole new world and you will be successful by his/her side. In everything. Aries likes ruling, indeed, but you are a mutable sign that does not care about being the boss so it won't bother you, I suppose.

As a Gemini, you like listening to words of love (well, WORDS in general, because talking is like... Air to you), to open declarations: Aries will guess exactly what you want (Fire looks for Air instinctively) and (s)he will make you all the declarations you dreamt of: you probably fascinated your Aries from the beginning!

All your moods and instability will challenge Aries and in exchange, (s)he will offer you the strength, the fulcrum you need (very much!!). That's because Aries likes changes also, but still, (s)he is a fixed sign, more stubborn that is, and more stabile (this means Aries does not move like Air, (s)he just burns in one place).

One of the small problems (even in Heaven there are problems...) could be the fact that Aries is sometimes a little too straightforward for a Gemini because the latter stops here and there, just like the wind that stops to admire a leaf, to blow over a spring, and so on. If you thought you were fast, wait to see Aries! You will have to get used to him/her...

Since Gemini is a dual sun sign, Gemini natives are very different, so I bet you will always be able to offer your Aries something new, without which the Fire would be lost. Most probably, you won't get too often to what we, the ordinary people, get to when we make love - that is the bed, because both Gemini and Aries are in a hurry all the time and passion simply abounds in this relationship.

Therefore, do I need to say that a Gemini-Aries relationship is meant to work? YES, it does!

Quotes from Famous Gemini:

“Words and music must be so inseparably wedded to each other that they are like one.”

-- Cole Porter, musician known for his way with words (Sun in Gemini, Moon in Cancer)

“I do not know whether we can be saved through the intellect, but I do know that I can be saved by nothing else.”

-- Dorothy Sayers (Sun and Moon in Gemini)

Some Famous People with Sun in Gemini: Mel Blanc (Sun and Moon in Gemini), Drew Carey, Courteney Cox (Sun and Mercury in Gemini), Johnny Depp, Melissa Etheridge, John Goodman (Sun, Moon, and Venus in Gemini), Steffi Graf (Sun, Moon, and Mercury in Gemini), Elizabeth Hurley (Sun and Mercury in Gemini), Nicole Kidman, Anna Kournikova (Sun and Mars in Gemini), Lenny Kravitz, Kylie Minogue (Sun, Moon, Mercury, and Mars in Gemini), Marilyn Monroe (Sun and Mercury in Gemini), Prince William (Sun and Mercury in Gemini), Brooke Shields (Sun, Moon, and Venus in Gemini), Pete Wentz (Sun and Mercury in Gemini).

Gemini and Leo? Air and Fire... It sounds good theoretically, but it's the practice that spoils everything here! Why? Because...

Leo is very inflexible, and you are flexibility itself. Leo has deep-rooted ideas, fixed concepts, is stubborn and very often (s)he just has to have it his/her way! Do you expect the freedom you need so much from a Leo? Change your mind because Leo wants you chained besides him/her (in a great, theatrical love because Leo has a generous heart and a rare theatrical sense, but it is still called chaining).

In the beginning, you will probably be attracted to Leo's passion for everything that is glamorous and elegant: (s)he likes going out and having high-quality things (from champagne and caviar to the best car), and when it comes to paying court, Leo is the master of it!

Adventurous as (s)he is, Leo will keep up with you for a while, but... you will be the first to get bored because quick silver does not stay in a place long enough for someone to catch it. Some stability in your life wouldn't hurt and Leo can offer it to you, but ... are you willing to accept it? You can adjust very easily, indeed, but when you demand the same thing from a Leo... do you know that famous roar?

If you feel a little routine and stability would be good for you and if you think you are able not to spend so much time on the phone or with friends anymore, and be more constant, you have a good chance of keeping your Leo close to you. But, I wonder, how long will it take until the quick silver in you, dear Gemini, starts making its presence felt?

Leo's possessiveness... here is another problem that could make you cut and run. Leo's wish to be the leader doesn't bother you, but when (s)he starts wanting you just for him/herself and demanding to know where you are and what you do all the time... I guess you won't like it!

In a word, even if Leo is the king of animals, (s)he will be a puppet in your hands: you can do anything you want with him/her. Until you get bored and find another toy.

Sexually, your fantasy - which Leo will admire -, combined with Leo's wish to prove his/her skills and with the capacity you both have to ignore rules and conventions, will make you get along very well.

In conclusion, I can only tell you this: a Gemini-Leo relationship could turn out to be a wonderful, harmonious one, on the only condition that you decide you need some stability in your life and you understand that possessiveness comes from love. In this relationship, it is you who decides whether to put out the Fire or stir it up even more. But you should try: after all, Leo has so much to offer you!

Gemini and Libra: Air and Air... Does it work? Of course it does, the only problem is precisely that nobody really “stays” in such a relationship!

A Gemini-Libra relationship is beautiful, often full of satisfactions, because each of you understands the other intuitively - after all, both of you are Air signs. Your Libra is intellectual, refined, honest and optimistic. Just like you, dear Gemini, Libra loves discussing and debating and has the same inner fire that makes him/her wander all the time, visiting cities, friends, anything.

“Libra prefers fancy restaurants and everything that is in fashion, expensive clothes and elegant accessories”. That’s what all horoscopes say, but I met many Libras that don’t even care about such things. The important thing is that they like going out often, just like a Gemini!

It’s true that there will be some tension between a Gemini and a Libra; after all, even if you are of the same nature, this is restless Air we are talking about. You are good for each other, indeed: Libra represents around... 80% of what you are looking for in a true partner, so you are in for a lot of joy together.

In the beginning, everything will be like the happy stories that happen to other people, and Libra’s sweet talk will turn your head - for good? - , because Libra is a much more rational and analytical sign (this native always tries to balance the two scales in life, love and in the world in general).

In brief, Libra will dominate in this relationship even if you don’t have this impression. Especially financially, because even though Libra is often thoughtless, still, (s)he is a more stable sign. That means your Libra will give you the money to pay your phone bill but (s)he won’t refrain from telling you, from time to time, with all his/her diplomacy, that you should cut down on your phone calls.

Sexually, although both of you are Air signs, everything becomes fire. Both of you like experimenting and neither of you is jealous or possessive, which makes the physical contact be uninhibited. Libra’s temper is like a stabilizer, everything becomes more balanced and people feel safer around him/her. Libra will offer you everything and your dual personality will add the necessary spice.

So, does a Gemini-Libra relationship work? Yes, it surely does. Libra is almost everything a Gemini has always wished for: (s)he loves without being possessive, (s)he takes pleasure in talking and (s)he will fascinate you very soon.

Gemini and Aquarius, Air and Air? YES, this is definitely the relation that is worth keeping: Aquarius offers you anything you want - and even more!

Here is, at last, someone who can live up to your bright intellect! Aquarius is a fixed sign so (s)he will bring some stability to your sometimes chaotic life. Your high sensitiveness will make you fall in love with Aquarius' unlimited fantasy.

If I were to characterize the Gemini-Aquarius relation in two words, they would be "passion" and "carelessness". You both live in the present, have lots of ideas and like talking about everything. Aquarius is very inventive, very attached sentimentally to someone that gained his/her esteem, and Gemini - with his/her intellectual and spiritual charm and his/her eternal youth - will be the perfect choice for an Aquarius.

Moreover, Aquarius is also very popular so you won't visit friends, go out or go shopping by yourself anymore: you have finally met someone who enjoys being around people, where the action is, as much as you do.

You were probably fascinated by Aquarius' rebellious and unconventional style, by the courage with which Aquarius tells things as they are, the way (s)he handles a conversation even if there are 20 other people in the room.

Maybe Aquarius seems cold and detached to you - (s)he often leaves that impression - but once you have reached his/her soul, you'll see the way the zodiac's innovator knows how to love. In addition to that, your sensitiveness and moods have probably fascinated Aquarius who is amazed at the rhythm life can be lived by.

One small problem: stability. Aquarius, although (s)he is rather absent-minded, has his/her feet set on the ground. Maybe sometimes you will find Aquarius a little stubborn or too inflexible. (S)He isn't, you just have to find the right arguments.

Aquarius lives more intensely the emotions you find ordinary, (s)he thinks about them harder and worries more often: don't forget that Aquarius' symbol is a man holding a pot of water and he is very careful not to spill a drop. Aquarius is the keeper of the world.

Aquarius, just like you, likes trying something new all the time, and from the sexual point of view, this is definitely a plus. Although the Gemini-Aquarius relation is based rather on a strong friendship, your similar styles will make physical love be exactly as you wished: new and even extravagant, always different, always in the high spheres of passion.

Do I still need to say that a Gemini-Aquarius relationship WORKS?

Gemini and Gemini... hold on, let's count once again: how many are you, in fact? Duality and duality... Each of you has two sides, and two multiplied by two...

This is a relation that works wonderfully during the first months, then you will both have to make some pretty serious efforts! However, let's take a look at the first months.

Two Gemini people in the same place... the world will look different every morning. You will probably go to all the pubs and all your friends, you will understand each other intuitively, like two spring winds that meet and wander in the sky. Home? What's that? You will probably spend so little time at home that you will forget where you keep your forks...

Whoever invented the expression "love at first sight" must have thought of two people of the same sun sign! However, it remains to be seen if love at first sight means eternal love.

That's what you should expect of a Gemini. But it's not necessary that you purchase two telephones - seriously, I haven't met one single Gemini that does not spend hours talking to friends, relatives, everybody... on the phone! Gemini flirts a lot and is impulsive and this might destabilize you. This is where the effort should be made: somebody will have to put his/her foot down and create a solid base for a lasting relationship.

Financially, you either hire an accountant, or go bankrupt: neither of you is very organized. You are good at making money but you are even better at spending it! I don't want to think about your phone bill!

Your relation will lack romanticism and sentimentalism though, so you'd better take it more slowly. Love is brain-rooted for a Gemini, so the heart always comes second. Think long and hard about what you want from a "twin" soul and if the fatal attraction you are feeling can last.

Gemini people cannot fall in love with somebody unless they fall in love with that person's mind, and another Gemini will give you so many intellectual satisfactions, which are so important to you, that the relation has good chances to last. I can imagine each of you talking on his/her own phone, staying in front of the computer or reading the newspaper, because you enjoy finding out many new things.

Sexually, two Gemini people with charmed fingers can only create a tornado of senses, and - since you both are vacillating, full of ideas and with double personalities - love will be like a waterfall: turbulent and stormy. However, you're not very sentimental so, after a few of such waterfalls, it wouldn't hurt if you thought about the reasons that make you stay together.

In conclusion: a Gemini-Gemini relation starts impetuously and continues impetuously... but needs more in order to last. Stability. Can you obtain and keep it? If you can, your Gemini is indeed your twin. But I'm afraid two Gemini people do not last for long in a relationship: after all, how long can a storm last?

Gemini and Sagittarius: Air and adventurous Fire... You almost embody the saying about the opposites that attract each other... It will be either everything or nothing - because you are six months away from each other in the zodiac and generally, these relations are either heaven or hell. The good thing is that you will realize what your situation is very quickly.

The sparkling intellect of the philosopher of the zodiac (Sagittarius), his/her ideas, his/her ingenious mind and his/her questions about life, religion and society - all this fascinated you, of course. This relation begins impulsively, but requires effort from both of you in order to resist!

Both Gemini and Sagittarius are mutable signs, this means you are flexible and can change your point of view in a conversation in a minute. The only problem is that you get bored quite easily and Sagittarius is known as the sign of celibacy so (s)he is not very persistent.

If we were to write one single word on a Sagittarius' forehead, it would be "adventure". Intellectual, but not only. You will have a beautiful relation for the first days-weeks-months, but it is possible that you drift apart at some point because there is nothing substantial to support this relationship.

Sagittarius flirts as much as you do (even if it is not that obvious with Sagittarius as it is with Gemini), so (s)he will understand your need of praise and admiration. Even if your relation doesn't work, it is possible that you remain friends for life - after all, you have so much in common.

You both like traveling, going to new places and discovering, and earthly things such as "who brings money" come 17th. Intellectual communication - this is the possible binder of your relation.

Sexually, you might have some problems and you might often criticize your Sagittarius. It will be obvious to you, even if you don't pay much attention to depth of feelings, that sex is more like a sport to Sagittarius rather than an enhancing experience, although Sagittarius is as open to new ideas and as passionate as you are.

Therefore, could a Gemini-Sagittarius relationship work? Stars themselves don't know for sure, but it is definitely worth trying because, if the answer is yes, you will have a fulfilled life. You will soon realize it.

Gemini and Cancer: spring wind and conservative Water? Enumerate 20 qualities that you appreciate about Cancer, quickly! If you have found them, you are lucky, your Crab has some planets that help him/her be on the same wavelength with you, but that doesn't mean that your relation will be easy, not even for a moment.

The adolescent of the zodiac, that's what they call you, and adolescents live intensely, think that the world belongs to them, but they seldom reach depth of feelings... Well, it is somewhere in that depth that you can find the Cancer, who is a Water sign, highly sensitive and very warm, but not willing to accept as many waves as you create by your mere presence!

Cancer is too often shy and sensitive, (s)he doesn't show his/her feelings that easily (Cancer is very mysterious, governed by the Moon, the "mother" of mysteries!), and love has a different meaning to him/her. The main problem you two have? You are comfortable when you wander outside the house, doing many things at the same time, and Cancer is well-known for his/her attachment to home and everything that is related to it. The Air bubbles don't stay for a long time in the Water, they come out very quickly. You will find Cancer suffocating...

Cancer is just like the Crab symbolizing him/her: you can hardly open his/her shell, but once you've opened it, (s)he is as vulnerable as one can be! Maybe you won't even know why your Cancer always feels hurt and betrayed... Well, let's see: could it be the fact that you spend hours on the phone and Cancer is usually jealous? Could it be the fact that you don't stay at home too much? Could it be the fact that, to you, love is reason, and to him/her, love is emotion? Could it be the fact that Cancer needs praise and (s)he finds your sincerity rather harsh? Or is it the fact a Crab walks in a roundabout way (have you ever seen a Crab walk in the sand? It is not able to walk straight, although it reaches the destination) and you are a fast and straightforward Gemini?

Water signs, such as Cancer, understand the others very well, so if you make time to stay at home more, you will experience the most beautiful moments of domestic intimacy. But don't bring all your friends at home or force your Cancer to pay visits constantly, because (s)he will get tired very soon...

Financially, a Cancer is a blessing for anyone, and (s)he is even a treasure to you because you spend a little too much. Cancer saves money and thinks about the future (an almost unknown concept to Gemini...); moreover, they say Cancer is lucky at money and handles it efficiently so you can rely on him/her in this respect.

You will manage to keep your Cancer only if you are able to feel love, instead of analysing it, give up some of your adventures and be more tactful. Otherwise, your Cancer will go back to his/her shell and while you are out with friends, (s)he will head towards other places, walking in his/her roundabout way.

In conclusion, a Gemini-Cancer relation requires all your commitment.

Taurus and Gemini? Inflexible Earth and adolescent wind?... You'll both have to change very much in order to make this relationship work...

Each sign of the zodiac has the qualities that the preceding sign lacks... Gemini is right after Taurus so they aren't very careful when they throw themselves into a project, don't count ten times before cutting (in fact, they don't even count) and they know that dreams and occasions disappear when you take too much time to decide... The Gemini native takes risks, is sharp-minded, witty in conversations, very versatile and changing and has a unique gift for communication! Gemini is the best at it... You need roots though, considered risks, safe methods and caution in everything.

Gemini can live in a suitcase, that's how much (s)he feels the need to travel, to walk, to go to friends' houses, exhibitions, dinner-parties, anywhere, but not home. And this is exactly what you want most: to be able to stay at home, next to someone, in a comfortable home away from the crazy world.

Gemini is neither too attracted to material possessions, (s)he feels like (s)he's drawn backwards by these earthly things, but that's exactly what you want from life. Your goals are so different! And the fast amazing pace of a Gemini native almost scares the quiet Taurus that walks patiently and slowly and doesn't try new things just for the sake of adventure...

Gemini is like quick silver, and to an inflexible person like you, dear Taurus, this will be hard to take... You have much patience, we all know that, but when Gemini starts asking you why you find it difficult to decide when the solution is so clear (and taking decisions on the spot sounds like crazy to you), when (s)he starts reproaching that you spend too much time at home... it will get on your hooves! Gemini is not very patient by nature, and this will always be a sore point in your relationship.

Keep in mind that Gemini doesn't want to harm anyone: that's the way (s)he is. Different, very different from you, dear Taurus. I once heard someone say that a Taurus should learn how to think more when (s)he feels and how to feel more when (s)he thinks... Maybe you should think about it...

Why a Taurus-Gemini relationship can't work? Because Gemini doesn't understand why Taurus is so headstrong, because Taurus doesn't understand why life has to be lived in a rush and without considering anything (although, if you think a little about it, you can only die once, and adventure can be an occasion to learn so much about yourself and about the world).

Maybe you stand a chance if you make your Gemini partner understand that the way to your heart goes through your soul, not your mind. But Taurus-Gemini is a very difficult relationship. Although it would be a wonderful combination of affection and imagination if it worked.

Gemini and Scorpio: bright Air and deep, mysterious and possessive Water... Hardly could such a relation last if it is based on physical attraction only.

Let's start with the good things: Scorpio is passionate, and this will fascinate you. You were probably attracted to the fire that burns in his/her eyes, and it is understandable. It is said that this sign takes passion to obsession...

Scorpio is as moody as you are but often, (s)he is more discreet. Scorpio waits for you to ask him/her what's wrong, but with so many things you have to do, you might not even notice that something bothers him/her.

Moreover, as Gemini is the sign of communication above all, you won't get why your Scorpio doesn't just tell you what troubles him/her... (S)He doesn't tell you because (s)he is very easy to hurt and (s)he thinks long and hard about his/her problem before letting it come out. In addition to that, Scorpio is a mysterious native.

Besides that, Scorpio likes staying at home more than you do. As (s)he is possessive, Scorpio will reproach you with not spending enough time at home, with talking too much on the phone, with not belonging to him/her only.

Scorpio wants stability and Gemini wants change... It's difficult to reach an equilibrium between you two. When Scorpio crosses the line and expresses his/her jealousy (Scorpio is, indeed, a very jealous sign; to a Scorpio, this is, in fact, a proof of love... as to many other people, as well, but not to a Gemini), you will head to other directions very quickly.

Scorpio can spend days without paying visits or reading the newspaper, which is rather difficult for a Gemini.

Sexually? Scorpio is undoubtedly the master of the zodiac in this regard. There are two things Scorpio takes great passion in: sex and sex.

Self-confident, sensual and very sophisticated, Scorpio will impress you in bed! The depth of his/her emotions, the delicate passion - next to a Scorpio, you will experience all these things that you read about in love novels. This is, indeed, the good side of the relation... but is it enough?

So, does a Gemini-Scorpio relationship work? Well, you should try if you think you can handle Scorpio's possessiveness and jealousy, if you understand that not everybody has to talk unceasingly to express his/her feelings... and if you can live in the fascinating emotional depths that Scorpio lives in. You will discover that you can be loved in a way you have never dreamt of.

Gemini and Capricorn: Air and Earth. They don't really mix... Capricorn likes working, is ambitious and knows exactly what (s)he wants. So be careful, dear Gemini, Capricorn is not very keen on your ever changing style...

The good news is that a Capricorn is rational enough and has his/her feet on the ground so (s)he will get your attention. Another advantage is that a Capricorn seems to get younger as time passes. But Capricorn has a lot of "cardinal" energy, is governed by Saturn (a planet that teaches us life lessons) and is often pessimistic, expecting that his/her love is not shared: Capricorn was betrayed so many times that (s)he is now more than careful.

Capricorn has a great sense of humour. The problem is that this native is terribly serious at the same time. Especially in love. Cautious and serious. I wouldn't be surprised if it was a Gemini who broke his/her heart! You have this talent of loving Earth passionately just to leave it for higher spheres after a while.

Capricorn is good at making money, but (s)he is also very attached to it! To a Capricorn, money is a way to climb the social ladder because any Goat wants a good car, an important social status and a very important job more than anything. It may sound like snobbism to others, but to Capricorn it is a very important thing.

The relation will have enough sore points next to a Gemini who wants to discover the world and to wake up in a new landscape every day. Capricorn is conservative while Gemini is the liberalism itself (libertinism, some say). Capricorn is self-centred, though not sentimentally, and Gemini is the sun sign of impatience and doesn't have time for silly things like "let's become somebody".

If you do not control yourself, your Capricorn will think you are shallow or careless. If you don't have the patience to listen to him/her, your Capricorn will think you are cold and heartless. Only a persistent love can soften this stubborn Earth. Are you capable of persistence and patience?

Capricorn is very attached to family, (s)he wants to settle down, while you want to explore the world. Physical attraction may not be enough to start a long-term relation...

Sexually, Capricorn is sensual and very loving and (s)he feels the experience much strongly than you do. You will seldom see a Capricorn who makes love on the second date or just for the fun of it: the Goat does not make love until (s)he deeply loves somebody. Moreover, Capricorn finds it a little hard to unwind and relax with a Gemini, so you will have to be prepared to use all your patience (little as it is!).

Therefore, does a Gemini-Capricorn relation work? You'd better ask yourself if it's worth it...

Gemini and Virgo: free Air and meditative Earth... How long can it last until one of you says “enough!”?

Ok, you are not a classical astrological couple at all, Air and Earth don't mix... BUT! If you really want a relationship with somebody that different (why not, after all?), don't forget that both Gemini and Virgo are governed by Mercury, that is the representation of Hermes, the one who used to take Gods' messages. Talk to your Virgo, communicate, it is your strong point anyway, and this can make any relationship work.

It's true that Mercury involves in each of your sun signs directly: Gemini's Mercury deals with communication and Virgo's, with thinking. The fact that you both have it as governor of your sun signs will help you a lot, but you will still have to make some efforts.

Virgo understands everything you tell him/her very well, but... a little late. Since you are such a fast thinker, you have the impression that (s)he doesn't understand anything! No matter what it is about, whether a philosophical message or the idea you were just talking about, sometimes your Virgo simply misses something. In fact, this is not it: Virgo just thinks and analyses a little longer. And yes, I know how much this gets on Gemini's nerves...

Another point to your advantage is that Virgo is not too possessive and does not expect too much of you, so your precious freedom will stay (almost) intact. Besides that, Virgo is very organized and keen on details (you lack both of these qualities and some Gemini even think that they are flaws...) and fortunately it will help your relationship.

As mutable, flexible sun signs that both Gemini and Virgo are, there are big chances of making it work, because you have the ability to adjust and neither of you has the tendency to dominate. Of course that you are the more flexible one, as you are Air. Earth sun signs, such as Virgo, tend towards stability, but towards stubbornness also. A little stability could help you though, and a Virgo is a very good support to friends.

Sex... Which sex? With so much talking, I wouldn't be surprised if you forgot about it! But still, if you move on to facts, don't forget that Virgo is very passionate and gives his/her best. That is, if you, dear Gemini, manage to make your Virgo unwind a little (Virgo works too hard, (s)he commits to work so much that she often cannot detach too easily) and if you don't overdo it with fantasy. Otherwise, your Virgo will feel inhibited and discouraged. That requires some effort: you have to be patient. And it wouldn't hurt if you learned something about it: Gemini people are so charmingly exuberant and so impatient!

So, does a Gemini-Virgo relationship work? Each of you will surely fascinate the other at the beginning, but the relationship won't last unless you give up much of your wandering style or somehow convince your Virgo to accept it, together with every Gemini's adolescent charm.

Gemini and Pisces: Air and mystical Water? Difficult, very difficult, and I'm not even sure it is worth trying for you.

You were probably attracted to Pisces' mysterious appearance, strange attitude, something that you cannot define. Yes, this is Pisces. Symbolized by two fish that swim in opposite directions, Pisces is often driven by contradictory desires (that means (s)he doesn't know what (s)he wants or what (s)he is heading to!)

In every Pisces' soul hide emotions that are too strong for your thrilling life. Besides that, Pisces likes staying at home while you like going out, shopping and visiting friends as much as possible.

Pisces has a completely different pace than yours. Do you know those images with late-bloom flowers? Well, Pisces resembles them: it takes a lot of time until (s)he makes a decision, and (s)he has the pace of a snail. Your Pisces simply cannot swim as fast as you can fly. You will get impatient until (s)he figures it out and you will want some more action, less imagination and fewer plans.

When you are at your friends, relatives or just out, your Pisces will stay at home feeling sorry for him/herself ((s)he is very good at it!). The logic you are in love with, the clarity with which you like viewing everything, your preciseness - not only does Pisces dislike all this, but they also scare him/her: Pisces lives in intuitive, emotional depths and to him/her, logic is just a convention whose patterns (s)he doesn't really know how to fit. Even when Pisces tries to express his/her feelings, (s)he will bore you with things (s)he him/herself does not understand.

Sexually, what is a spiritual experience to you, it's a mystic, almost ritual experience to Pisces. For a while, it will fascinate you, but, once again, Pisces prefers stability (water tends to stillness; even if it is a fast running water, it is just looking for a place to stop), and you prefer changes.

Pisces can love very deeply and if you made the mistake to make a Pisces fall in love with you and you want to get rid of him/her now, don't say I didn't warn you: when Pisces wants something, (s)he can be very persistent, like a Chinese drop.

Lack of trust appears very soon, because Pisces has to feel what you have to understand. Pisces is too sensitive and emotional and you can make him/her insecure very easily, but most of the times, it is not worth trying because what Pisces has to offer is not what you want.

Therefore, before asking yourself if a Gemini-Pisces relationship is going to work, ask yourself if it is worth the effort.